HISTORIC CANNON on the corner of Park Avenue and Front Street, Scotch Plains, has an unusual history. Scotch Plains and Fanwood Competed for ownership of the World War I weapon in a war bond drive during the early part of the century. After keen competition, Scotch Plains had sold more bonds than Fanwood, and thus the cannon has remained in Scotch Plains ever since. 9 (staff Photo)

JOHN CAMPBELL, Fanwood Borough Administrator, poses at his desk. John has served the Borough since his appointment as Borough Clerk in 1952. (See story inside)
