STILL HOLDING---Doctor William Sampson and Mrs. Robert Heald inspect the hand hewn beams in the stable portion of the old barn. The size of the structure led them to comment on the ingenuity our forefathers showed to construct a building of its size.

UPSTAIRS---The hand hewn beams that form the slanting ceiling of the master bedroom are admired by Mrs. Harry Bernstein, Mrs. William Sampson, Mrs. Robert Heald and Mrs. Gordon Ehrlich. The other bedroom on the second floor proved to be an equally charming room.
