

SCOTCH PLAINS

THE TIMES

FANWOOD

VOLUME 26 - NUMBER 29

SCOTCH PLAINS-FANWOOD, N.J.

JULY 21, 1983

25 Cents

PLANNING A COOKOUT THIS WEEKEND?

See page 13 for ideas on food, paper goods, barbecue supplies, etc.

TIRED OF THE SAME OLD HOUSE?

See pages 15, 16 & 17 for what's new on the housing market.

COMING SOON SCOTCH PLAINS MERCHANTS SIDEWALK SALE AUGUST 4, 5 & 6

Super sales, food, balloons, magician, Snoopy appearance and gigantic Lions Club Flea Market.

MEN'S CLUB OF TEMPLE ISRAEL TO HOLD FLEA MARKET

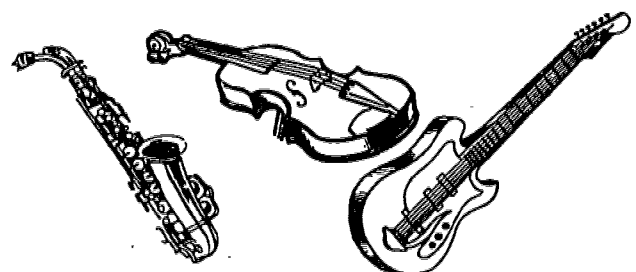

A Flea Market will be held by the Men's Club of Temple Israel of Scotch Plains-Fanwood at the Fanwood Railroad Station on Sunday, July 24 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Dealers are still welcome.

JAYCEES FLEA MARKET SET FOR JULY 30

The Fanwood-Scotch Plains Jaycees will sponsor a flea market on July 30 from 9 am to 4 pm at the Fanwood Trail Station, North and Martine Avenues, Fanwood. The rain date will be July 31.

Over 60 vendors are expected to participate with assorted household merchandise, tools, handcrafts, jewelry and clothes; something for everyone. Refreshments will be available, including the famous Fanwood Franks.

The Jaycees is a community service organization with membership open to young men between the ages of 18 and 40. Further information on the Fanwood-Scotch Plains Jaycees can be obtained by calling Len Brzozowski at 889-6242.

MUSIC ON THE VILLAGE GREEN IN SCOTCH PLAINS THURSDAY, JULY 21

Tonight at 8 P.M. MIDNIGHT MAGIC Six piece band PLUS

Musical Numbers From "Sweet Charity"

Bring your chairs

NEXT WEEK: Scotch Plains Players, Musical Potpourri.

Fanwood Council plagued by curb assessment complaints

by Liz Gautier
Approximately 45 residents turned out to air their views on the curbing assessments at the regular Fanwood council meeting on Wednesday, July 15. John Walton, Burns Way and S. Martine Ave., termed the curbing assessment "incredible". He told the Mayor and council, "It is very important to be special. We didn't have a petition...we came in good faith and we got our assessment. Not one of the assessments were based on the same rate." When Walton told the body that "I'd like to pay the same rate that the residents of Watson Road are going to pay," the audience burst into applause. The curbing costs for Watson Road between N. Martine and Russell Road will be paid by the Please turn to page 12

S.P. police promote Adopt-A-Cop program

by Liz Gautier
In an effort to bring police officers closer to children in a non-threatening role, the Scotch Plains Police Department will institute an "Adopt-A-Cop" program for elementary grade children this fall.

Police Chief Robert Luce approached the PBA Council and Dr. Robert Howlett, superintendent of schools, and other school administrators with the idea and all agreed it worthy of a try.

Fanwood Police Chief Anthony Parenti to participate in the program and to request volunteers for his department. To date Luce has 17 officers (limited to patrolmen) who volunteered for Adopt-A-Cop program.

"We want to assign two officers to each elementary and middle school," Luce said, "and the men will act as liaison between the police department and the school. It is hoped that a child can identify with a particular officer from kindergarten

Chief Luce asked

Please turn to page 20

"Midnight Magic" to perform on the Village Green tonight

Pictured left to right (back row) are: Mark Hennig, guitarist and vocalist; Kevin Blake, bass guitar and featured player; Tom Pintozzi, drummer; Jeff Parkhurst, lead guitarist; (front row) Daysy Stonack, vocalist; Rosie Venezia, keyboard, vocalist and band leader.

"Midnight Magic", a music from the 50's versatile six-piece band through the 80's is whose repertoire of Please turn to page 11

Ptl. Crawley makes unscheduled delivery

by Liz Gautier
Wednesday, July 13 started out as a routine day for Scotch Plains Police Officer Carlton Crawley, but it didn't stay that way for very long. When Ptl. Crawley answered a call for assistance on Cooper Road at 11:28 a.m. where a woman was in labor, he didn't dream he would be doing delivery room honors, and in the front seat of an auto at that.

Jack and Geraldine Weikel were on the way to Muhlenberg Hospital for the birth of their child when it became evident that Mrs. Weikel would not make it out of the driveway. A friend called police and Officer Crawley responded.

Sizing up the situation, Crawley could see that there wasn't time to radio for instruction, and he "did what had to be done". With the help of expectant father Jack Weikel, a Plainfield policeman, Crawley delivered Geraldine Weikel's fourth child, a 6-pound 4-ounce boy, named Ptl. Carlton Crawley and (inset) a copy of the new badge, reserved for officers who make emergency deliveries.

James Clifton. Scotch Plains Police Capt. Bill Mineo said the department had no formal training on delivering babies other than the routine instructions in the First Please turn to page 4

Board of Ed. leases portion of Shackamaxon to J.C.C.N.J.

The Scotch Plains community center. The Fanwood Board of Education voted Thursday, July 14, to lease quarters on South almost one-half of Avenue in Westfield. Shackamaxon School to the Jewish Community Center of Central New Jersey for use as a nursery school and Please turn to page 12

Garbage rate increase sought by scavengers

The Scotch Plains customers of Fanwood Disposal Service and Industrial Disposal Service have been notified that the two companies have petitioned the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities for approval to merge their businesses into one business that would be known as the A & K Industrial Sanitation, Inc. The petition also asks the Board of Public Utilities to allow A & K Industrial Sanitation, Inc. to serve Please turn to page 5