man; (sitting L to R) Joseph DiDario, Chris Ozaluk, Ian Reyes, Rebecca Vroon, Leslie Pazamino and Ryan Importico.

The Raider Show Band marched on to another sweeping performance at Piscataway High School on Sunday, Oct. 12. However, the trophy marking a superior performance has left the high school for a new home.

competition thinking not only of themselves. Director Vincent Turturiello said before the performance, "Let's go in and do our best. If not for yourselves, win it for Elazar and his classmates at Brunner."

The band went into Elazar Nudell is the president of his pre-school handicapped class at Brunner Elementary School. The class is comprised of children ages three and four with various handicaps and learning disabilities.

Turturiello decided to make this presentation after meeting the class on the band's tour of schools on Oct. 8th.

On Friday, October 17, students left ninth period and marched to Brunner. In an informal assembly outside the school, the superior trophy was dedicated and presented to the class. Band members then showed their instruments and allowed the pre-schoolers to play the bells. This gesture showed a mutual bond of caring which has developed between the band members and this wonderful class of handicapped children.

American Education Week November 17-22

The members of the Scotch Plains-Fanwood Education Association are asking parents, students, civic, and business leaders to join in the nation's annual salute to U.S. public schools, American Education Week, Nov. 16-22, 1986.

Sonya Martin, President of the Scotch Plains-Fanwood Education Association, noted that a special week for education has been set aside ever since 1921. "American Education Week is our community's chance to spotlight the accomplishments and needs of our local public schools," said Mrs. Martin. The theme of this year's national American Education Week observance is "School and Community: United for Excellence," and that theme is guiding local planning for the observance. We believe our local schools are doing an excellent job and to strengthen our schools, we need community ideas and continued support that American Education Week can help generate.

More than one hundred years ago, James Madison, discussing the survival of democracy, said, "Knowledge will forever govern ignorance; and a people who mean to be their own governors must arm themselves with the power which knowledge gives." Time has added urgency to those words. Now, more than ever, the key to our future lies in our schools. Lend your interest and support. Visit your schools during American
