Jeffrey Spring, Track Coach, 43, Dies During Practice

By JANE MONTANARI

The track coach at Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School was killed in a track practice on Wednesday.

Jeffrey S. spring

43, former assistant track coach at Cranford High School and Scotch Plains-Fanwood High School, died Wednesday in a track practice at the high school, officials said.

Mr. Spring was killed in a freak accident when a track-lighting pole fell on him.

Mr. Spring was born in New Jersey and attended John F. Kennedy High School in Elizabeth.

He received a bachelor's degree in education from Montclair State College and a master's degree in physical education from New York University.

He had been coaching for 12 years, first at southeast High School in Elizabeth and then at Cranford High School.

Mr. Spring had been married for 12 years, and he is survived by his wife, Dina, and two children, Michael and David.

Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's Church in Scotch Plains on Tuesday at 10 a.m.

The family planned to make contributions in his memory to the American Red Cross and the American Heart Association.
